Business of the Month:

Piedmont Development Corp.

Piedmont Development Corp., owned by Steve and Jill Dorsey, began as a residential home building company, focusing on in-fill lots in the older neighborhoods of Edwardsville with homes that fit the style, size and price of existing homes. Piedmont has also built several custom homes and most recently partnered with Jamie and Sharon Henderson of Henderson Architects & Associates to design and build Edwardsville’s The Park at Plum Creek, which features the Goddard School & Annex, TheEDGEBANK, What to Wear, Peel Wood Fired Pizza and soon home to Mike Shannon’s Grill and other retail stores.

Steve has been an independent residential contractor since he graduated from Virginia Tech in 1988, beginning his career in the Northern Virginia area. Jill is an attorney by trade but after her wireless company in Georgia was sold to T-Mobile the Dorseys relocated back to Edwardsville and she joined Steve in the construction business.

The quality of Piedmont’s work attracted the attention of others seeking more custom quality home building expertise. In 2007, after being approached by longtime friend Kent Weber of TheEDGEBANK, the Dorseys and the Hendersons decided to create The Park at Plum Creek with TheEDGEBANK as its initial tenant.

Piedmont’s owners are anxious to complete the buildout of the remaining three buildings in Plum Creek and to bring new shopping, dining and other lifestyle experiences to the residents of Edwardsville, Glen Carbon and the surrounding area.

Steve has always had a love of architecture, construction and working with his hands to build quality crafted homes. Both he and Jill have a desire to construct buildings that are visually pleasing and fit in with their surroundings. Jill is originally from Edwardsville and both take great pride in improving the state of new construction in this area.

Piedmont Development Corp.’s target market on the residential side include both first time home buyers as well as larger custom home owners. In the commercial market, Piedmont will build to suit within The Park at Plum Creek for any business which they believe fits well in the Plum Creek community.

Jill serves as a board member for the Greater Edwardsville Area Community Foundation, is part owner of What to Wear, and still does some consulting work with her telecommunications law background. Steve has been involved in the advisory activities surrounding the I-55 corridor as well as Habitat for Humanity/Jammin’ for Joplin and Make-A-Wish Foundation.

When asked about their perspective on doing business, Jill joked, “As a husband/wife team, we have our challenges. We have a sign in our shared office that says, ‘I’m not bossy… I just have better ideas.’ Of course we fight over which one of us that applies to on a day-to-day basis.”

Having been an Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce member since 2005, Jill said, “The Ed/Glen Chamber provides great visibility and professional connections to its members. We are proud to have been a member for many years, and are grateful for the contributions the Chamber makes to the community and the benefits it provides to members.”

Welcome to New Ed/Glen Chamber Ambassadors

As new Membership Coordinator one of the privileges of my role is working with our Ambassador Team. This volunteer team of the Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce is a vital work force. They serve as the goodwill arm of our organization. The committee is made up of 20 ambassadors representing different member businesses.

Ambassador committee co–hairs Ryan Matthews and Rachel Case join me in welcoming our four new ambassadors: Rob Pickerell from Centrue Bank, Rebecca Obermark from West & Company, Tina Barnard from Homewatch Care Givers and Elizabeth McCord from Meridian Village. We are pleased to have such dynamic additions to our team.

You can expect to see our ambassadors at business after hours events, ribbon cutting ceremonies, welcoming new members and helping the Ed/Glen Chamber with all major events such as the annual dinner, golf tournament, SIUE Block Party and the Halloween parade. The ambassadors are here to help answer questions and connect you with Chamber events and activities.

I have been impressed by the level of commitment from this group and look forward to collaborating to help reach our goals. Look out for ambassador spotlights on our Facebook page throughout the year and do not be surprised if you get a phone call from one of our enthusiastic ambassadors encouraging your participation in our wonderful membership based organization.

Desirée Bennyhoff Named New Ed/Glen Chamber Executive Director

The Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce has announced the promotion of Desiree Bennyhoff as Executive Director of the Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce.

Bennyhoff is an SIUE graduate and has been serving as the Chamber’s Interim Executive Director since Aug. 2012 when former Executive Director Lisa Smith resigned.

In her new role as Executive Director, Bennyhoff will be responsible for leading the chamber in its efforts to optimize membership retention and focus on the organization’s service to the business community.

“This will be an exciting year, as we are initiating the strategic planning process, improving service delivery, and reinvigorating existing programs. We as the board look to fulfill our mantra, ‘Business focused. Community centered.’” President of the Ed/Glen Chamber and Vice President of the Commercial Banking Group at TheBANK of Edwardsville Paul Millard said in a news release.

Bennyhoff began her tenure at the Ed/Glen Chamber in March of 2009 when she was hired as Communications Director. In that role she worked to streamline the chamber’s identity and garnered statewide recognition for marketing campaigns, branding and design.

Under Bennyhoff’s communication leadership, the Ed/Glen Chamber received top Illinois Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives (IACCE) Communications Awards honors for its monthly newsletter, Common Ground; the edglenchamber.com Web site; the Shop Chamber marketing campaign; the Annual Dinner & Auction campaign; the Community Profile & Resource Guide publication; and the large format community map. Most recently, Bennyhoff was invited to present Email & Social Media Marketing Best Practices at the 2012 IACCE Fall Conference in Crystal Lake.

Bennyhoff is excited about her new role at the chamber as well as the coming year. “2013 will be an impactful year for the Ed/Glen Chamber. We are dedicated to strategically focusing efforts to best serve our membership through programming and benefits,” Bennyhoff said. “The board is focused on helping members market, grow and expand their businesses.”

Bennyhoff currently serves on the Illinois Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives (IACCE) Board of Directors, where she spearheads the organization’s efforts as Communications Committee Chair and is an Executive Committee member.

The Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce provides leadership for the benefit of the business community by promoting economic opportunities, advocating the interests of business, providing members with education and resources, and encouraging mutual support. Junior Service Club Donates $4,500 to Glen-Ed Pantry and Assists with Toy Drive

The Junior Service Club of Edwardsville/Glen Carbon recently presented a check to the Glen Ed Pantry for $4,500. Funds are typically utilized by the pantry in providing back to school supplies each year to area children in need. Dawn Stach of the Glen Ed Pantry said, “I’d like to thank Junior Service for their continued support of the Pantry. Their donation of $4,500 will allow us to continue providing students in need with school supplies, book bags, PE uniforms and athletic shoes.”

The Junior Service Club contributes both financial and volunteer support to the Glen Ed Pantry by assisting with canned food drives and also with their recent toy sorting event. Members of the Junior Service Club recently teamed up with members of the Glen Ed Pantry to collect and sort Christmas gifts for more than 200 children in need.

Deserving parents had the opportunity to shop for their children through the Glen Ed Pantry on December 19. As well as toys, they received gloves, hats, scarves plus a Christmas food basket. Susan Kurilla coordinated the effort for Junior Service Club by setting up a giving tree at Walmart and collecting the donations. “We are happy to have the opportunity to help out the pantry, especially around the holidays. We want every child to have gifts when they wake up Christmas morning and enjoy a nice meal,” she said.

The Glen Ed Pantry is one of many recipients of the fundraising efforts of the Junior Service Club. All money raised throughout the year stays within the community. The next event is the 3rd Annual Dinner Auction February 9 at Sunset Hills Country Club. The event will again feature music by Dr. Zhivegas, dinner, premium bar, silent and live auction items. The public is welcomed and more information can be found at edglenjuniorservice.org.

“We are thrilled and excited to have Jason join TheBANK of Edwardsville as our newest board member,” said Board Chairman Mark Shashek. “He has a host of contacts and experience throughout the state, as well as a vast knowledge of how businesses in Illinois work. We are confident he will be a tremendous addition to TheBANK’s Board of Directors.”

“It’s an honor to get the opportunity to serve on the board of a bank which I have such respect and affection for,” Plummer said. “TheBANK of Edwardsville has such a wonderful tradition as a community bank in the area, and I look forward to working with my fellow board members to help continue that tradition.”

Plummer currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois and the Illinois Lumber and Materials Dealers Association. He is also a member of the Executive Board of the Boys Scouts of America, Lewis and Clark Council.

Advice from Anderson Hospital During Height of Flu Season

This year’s flu season is off to an early start. According to the Centers for Disease Control, the flu season started earlier than usual and it’s on track to be perhaps the highest since the H1N1 outbreak in 2009.

Flu is a contagious respiratory illness that spreads from person to person through the air via coughs or sneezes or through contact with infected surfaces. It is caused by a group of continuously changing viruses called influenza viruses.

“The majority of the flu that we are seeing is influenza B – 75% with only 25% being influenza A,” reports Anderson Hospital Infection Control Nurse, Doris Driscoll. “I have reported more influenza B this year than I have in all the other years combined.”

Unfortunately, the flu has to run its course. “In most cases, flu sufferers just need to stay at home, rest, and drink plenty of fluids,” said Driscoll. However, she warns that people with certain conditions such as lung, liver, kidney and weakened immune systems should consult their physician. “You should seek immediate medical attention if you encounter fast breathing or trouble breathing, pain or pressure in the chest or abdomen, sudden dizziness, confusion, severe or persistent vomiting, or flu-like symptoms that get better and then get worse with fever and a worse cough, and fever with a rash,” explained Driscoll. While antiviral drugs may help combat the flu, they must be started within 24 hours after onset of symptoms.

If you are ill, you should stay home for at least 24 hours after your fever is gone without the use of fever-reducing medications. “Stay away from others as much as possible to keep from making others ill,” urges Driscoll. “You can spread the flu as early as 24 hours before feeling ill to about 5-7 days after getting sick.”

Protect yourself by:
- Covering your nose and mouth when you cough or sneeze
- Washing your hands often with soap/water or alcohol-based hand gel
- Avoiding touching your eyes, nose and mouth to avoid spreading germs
- Avoiding close contact with sick people

Metro East American Diabetes Association Raises More Than $95,000 with Help of First Clover Leaf Bank

Thanks to the support and effort of Dennis Terry and First Clover Leaf Bank employees, this year’s Metro East Diabetes fundraiser, STEP OUT: Walk to Stop Diabetes, raised more than $95,000, topping last year’s record amount for the event. The result has placed it among the most successful American Diabetes Association (ADA) walks in the nation.

Rawnie Berry, manager of the ADA Metro East Area, recently presented Dennis Terry and First Clover Leaf Bank with plaques in recognition of their contributions to the walk.

"With the support of Dennis Terry and his staff, this year’s Metro East ‘Step Out: Walk to Stop Diabetes’ raised $95,073 for the American Diabetes Association. Never before in the history of the event has this much been raised," Berry said.

"The Walk achieved a fundraising goal of 133 percent, ranking it fourth highest in the nation among Step Out: Walks that surpassed their fundraising goals. All of the funds raised stay in the Metro area and help the American Diabetes Association fulfill its mission: to prevent and cure diabetes and improve the lives of all people affected by diabetes," she said.

Berry attributed much of the success to Terry’s role as the 2012 Corporate Recruitment Chair. Through his support and that of his close associates and employees, $14,970 was raised by bank employees, client donations, and corporate sponsorships.

"I was honored to be asked to serve as Chairman of this year’s walk. Diabetes is an insidious, silent disease that is affecting an ever-increasing number of people. All of us at First Clover Leaf Bank are happy and proud to help raise funds for this very worthwhile cause," responded Chairman Terry.

Today, there are nearly 26 million Americans—including 22,150 in Madison County alone—who have diabetes. While an estimated 18.8 million have been diagnosed, unfortunately, 7 million people are unaware that they have the disease. If current trends continue, one in three American adults will have diabetes by 2050.
Scheffel & Company, PC Participate in Community Days of Service through Scheffel Shares Initiative

During most of the year the accountants of Scheffel & Company, PC are working at their desks identifying solutions to their client’s tax and audit questions, but recently they could be found in the communities where their offices are located volunteering through the employee–driven Scheffel Shares initiative.

“Giving back to the many communities where we work is the right thing to do,” said Managing Principal Dennis Ulrich of Scheffel & Company, PC. “We live here, we do business here and we have the responsibility of helping our local neighborhoods. Having a dedicated Scheffel Shares initiative not only provides for our community but gives us another chance to work together as a team.”

In Edwardsville the staff planned a neighborhood clothing drive for a local elementary school. They canvassed the area around their office leaving flyers and returning the following week to pick up the donations of children’s clothing. Once collected, the Scheffel staff generously matched with their own donations of clothes and money.

The Jerseyville and Carrollton offices sponsored a Blood Drive for the American Red Cross. Scheffel staff volunteered by calling prior donors to inform them of the upcoming blood drive, setting up appointments, signing donors into the drive, working the canteen, and giving blood themselves. Forty-eight people donated and forty-three productive units of blood were collected.

Playing off the rivalry of Highland and Triad’s High School football teams, the employees of the Highland Scheffel & Company, PC location set up a booth to collect hats, gloves and non-perishable items for the Highland Area Christian Service Ministry Food Pantry. All donors were entered into a contest to win a Kindle Fire HD. The persistent rain did not dampen the spirits of the Scheffel employees and a van full of donations was delivered to the food pantry.

Dolls, Matchbox cars and Barbies could be seen around the Alton location as they joined forces with the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots Program. Alton employees distributed flyers, collected toys and created a drop off for toys to be distributed to children in the Alton area. The event was a huge success with the Marines picking up over seventy toys.

Sandberg Phoenix Expands Family Law Team, Continues Firm-Wide Strategic Growth Plan

In a move to expand their Family Law practice team, Sandberg Phoenix recently added three new attorneys: Counsels, Amanda McNelley and Chuck Todt, and Associate Alex Chosid. McNelley has exclusively practiced Family Law for 10 years in the St. Louis area, and Chuck Todt, formerly of Clayton–based Todt Law Firm, is a hard-scrabble veteran attorney with a winning trial reputation who brings nearly 40 years of Family Law expertise to the firm. The team’s concentration will be divorce, child custody, modification of child custody, support and maintenance, paternity, ante- and postnuptial agreements, and mediation.

Since coming out of the economic recession without a single layoff, Sandberg Phoenix has been bulking up, bringing on 17 new attorneys since January 2012 ranging from first–year associates to seasoned senior attorneys. In total, the firm now boasts over 90 attorneys between their downtown St. Louis office and four Illinois offices.

Currently, the Family Law team is led by Shareholder Andrew Kasnetz, a 30–year veteran attorney who joined the firm in 1982. Other Family Law members include shareholders Marty Doesch, Tony Soukenik, Phil Lading and Associate Raven Akram.

Known for their robust Business Practice Group as well as their litigation achievements involving health and malpractice, products liability and business litigation, the addition of Sandberg’s three new Family Law attorneys makes them the largest firm in the St. Louis metro area, on both sides of the river, with a fully staffed, comprehensive Family Law practice supported by established business and litigation teams.

“That’s what sets us apart from other firms,” Kasnetz noted, “how the experience and depth of our business attorneys and related business services tie neatly in with our family law practice, helping us navigate our high-asset clients, often business owners, through a complicated maze of personal matters and some very real business decisions that need to be made at a sensitive time. It’s a tricky scenario and important that both parties are represented and treated respectfully no matter how high the stakes. This all goes far beyond the monetary and material things. Ultimately, we are representing people’s lives.”

“The strong organizational structure of our Family Law team working side by side with our business and business litigation attorneys, some of who practice in both fields, is the best of both worlds,” said McNelley, who focuses on high net worth asset divisions, modifications, high conflict custody disputes, paternity actions, and also acts as a Guardian ad Litem in both St. Louis County and St. Louis City.

She is also keenly aware of the complicated issues borne out of Family Law’s changing landscape, highlighting recent changes in same-sex marriage laws and civil unions, also factoring in that more women than men are now in the workforce and child custody is no longer a guaranteed outcome for the wife but is increasingly being shared between both parties.

McNelley says that it’s important to be able to deal with the changing “family” and adapt your practice to be creative enough to help people through those very rough times. But she quickly notes that one of the principal concerns of Family Law remains unchanged: “Everyone wants to do what is best for their children. Litigants may have different definitions of what is best, but a good family law practitioner assists their client in meeting their needs reasonably, realistically and with compassion.”

Scott Credit Union AWARDS $1,000 Prize to Financial Fitness Program Winner

Tim Stremming of Edwardsville spent most of this year working to become more financially fit. His efforts were rewarded, and given a boost, recently when Scott Credit Union announced that he was the winner of its “Take The Pledge” financial fitness program. Stremming and his wife, Kim, were on hand at SCU last week to receive Tim Stremming’s $1,000 Certificate prize.

Stremming was the winner of the 10-month program that was offered by SCU to help area residents take control of their finances by receiving financial tips, attending free seminars, having access to financial advice and keeping quarterly worksheets to help them track their progress.

“At the end of the program in October, we chose one participant to win the $1,000 certificate to help kick-start their savings,” said SCU Community Relations Supervisor Ashleigh Deatherage. “We truly care about our members and their financial lives. While we continue to be in tough times economically, it is the perfect time for us to help people learn more about handling their finances.”

“We congratulate Tim and Kim for sticking with the ‘Take The Pledge’ program. They turned in their worksheet each quarter and really worked toward being more financially fit,” Deatherage noted. “Kim also was one of our quarterly winners for her effort.”

The “Take The Pledge” campaign had 336 participants in 2012.

“To take the pledge to be financially fit, members simply enrolled online,” Deatherage added. “Once they did that, they were entered for a chance to win quarterly prizes and the $1,000, one-year certificate grand prize.”
