Common Ground
Edwardsville | Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce
It’s everyone’s business.
Bill Braundmeier’s interest in plants began in childhood, when he purchased a 9 x 12 foot greenhouse. Bill’s first experience in floral design was at Michigan State University in 1963. After completing his program, he moved back to Edwardsville and worked for Home Nursery, then later Woodlawn Gardens.

In 1977, Braundmeier opened Bill’s Montclaire Floral in a remodeled gas station (now Rapid Lube) at Montclaire Shopping Center, and a few years later moved to the Long John Silver’s building next to McDonald’s (now Taco Bell).

In 1987, Braundmeier purchased the building at 222 First Avenue in Edwardsville, previously a small animal hospital, where Bill’s Montclaire Floral is currently located.

Bill’s Montclaire Floral is a full service florist serving the needs of customers in Edwardsville, Glen Carbon, Maryville, Troy, Hamel and Alhambra. According to Bill, their quality, honesty and exceptional customer service has kept Bill’s Montclaire Floral thriving for more than three decades in business.

Ambassador Spotlight:

Diana Voegele

Diana, originally from Austin, Texas, and her husband, Marc, are longtime Granite City residents. They have a 24-year-old daughter, Kristen, and a 20-year-old son, Mark.

Favorite hobbies include exercising, taking walks, and reading motivational books. Diana’s favorite sports team is Marc’s soccer team.

For the past four years, Diana and Marc have co-owned Express Employment Professionals in Edwardsville. Express Employment is a faith based company that focuses on serving people – this was exactly what she and Marc were looking for in a business that best matched their priorities.

Diana has been active with the Ed/Glen Chamber since joining in 2006. She regarded it as an honor being asked to represent the Chamber and to contribute to the mission of the Chamber to build our business community. Diana’s number one goal is to encourage businesses in the community to work together for the purpose of serving the people in the community.

In addition to serving as an Ambassador for the Ed/Glen Chamber, she is also an Ambassador for the Southwestern Madison County Chamber, is a member of Belleville BNI, serves on the Board for CHASI, and is a member of Metro Community Church.

Ken and Michelle Noll began landscaping in October 1995, and The Garden Kingdom store opened in May 1998. They joined the Chamber immediately for networking opportunities.

Ken has always found inspiration in the great outdoors, but found his calling when he worked a few summers on a golf course. He went on to study Landscape Architecture at University of Illinois.

The Garden Kingdom offers a full range of outdoor services including landscaping, maintenance (grass cutting, snow plowing, full outdoor maintenance), water features, patios, walks, walls, irrigation, lighting and Christmas décor (The Garden Kingdom’s holiday décor was displayed on the Madison Mutual building in December’s edition of Common Ground).

The store sells landscape materials, trees, shrubs, annuals, perennials, vegetables, herbs, houseplants, and tropics. The Garden Kingdom has lately focused on the “green” movement, with a variety of plants to improve indoor health and rainwater harvest systems.

“Because The Garden Kingdom is located in an area that has been slow to develop, we have had to reach out to customers rather than rely on drive by traffic,” Ken said.

The Garden Kingdom serves anyone who loves and appreciates nice things for their home – they see customers as invited guests to a party, with The Garden Kingdom owners and employees as the hosts. Ken feels it is their job each day to make every important aspect of the customer’s experience a little better.

The Garden Kingdom actively supports the deaf community and soccer.

To learn more about The Garden Kingdom, stop by the store located at 3711 South State Route 157 in Glen Carbon, give them a call at 618.288.0101, or visit them online at www.thegardenkingdom.com.

New Vehicle Brings Reliability to Mobile Blood Drives

A new 40-foot vehicle will soon bring life-saving blood to hundreds of patients in area hospitals. The Central Illinois Community Blood Center (CICBC) has acquired a new bloodmobile through funding from The Memorial Medical Center Foundation and St. John’s Hospital. The bloodmobile was inaugurated Monday, April 5.

“Our present mobile units have been on the road quite some time, and for the past several months have been plagued with reliability issues,” said David Parsons, CEO of CICBC. “Patients and their doctors must be confident that blood will be available when needed, and mechanical failures have at times put that in doubt.

“Volunteer blood donors make up a vital component of the excellent medical care we have in this area, and we are very grateful to St. John’s and Memorial for giving us this capability to better reach our volunteer donors in order to maintain an adequate blood supply for area patients.”

The new Bloodmobile has a great deal of flexibility and is equipped to efficiently hold an entire blood drive within the vehicle. It has five beds, two registration areas, two screening rooms, and two power generators. Staff of the CICBC is completing the final steps of the inspection and calibration process. The Bloodmobile is expected to be put into service for mobile blood drives in early May.

Ordered in September, the vehicle was built by MBF Industries, Inc. of Sanford, Florida on a Freightliner chassis. Fully equipped, the vehicle cost nearly $250,000. Each of the two hospitals contributed $100,000 to enable the purchase of the Bloodmobile.
Local Marketing & Design Duo Launch BRIDGET™

Chamber members and a local graphic design and marketing duo, Jan Carpenter and Laura Reed of Cork Tree Creative, have taken their creative talents to a whole new level and produced a one-of-a-kind gift set for bridge players. Inspired by Jan’s mother and her friends in Palm Springs, California, BRIDGET™ supplies and gifts are boutique-designed and packaged for gift giving. All Made in the U.S.A., Jan and Laura were also able to make most of the bridge supplies in the St. Louis region, including their reusable tallies, invitations, score pads and packaging.

With more than 25 million bridge players in the U.S. and a resurgence of the game in younger players thanks to a $1 million funded campaign led by Bill Gates and Warren Buffet, BRIDGET™ is hitting the market just in time to meet the needs of cross generations of bridge fans.

According to Laura Reed of Cork Tree Creative, “We designed this gift with careful consideration of quality and our abilities to keep production of the product local. We have carefully selected 100% plastic playing cards with just the right amount of texture, created hard laminate tallies that are reusable and easy to read and packaged it all up in a durable, attractive box that makes gift giving so easy. We’re really proud of our abilities to keep the production of our supplies local and will continue to find ways to support the local economy in any way we can.”

Launched in March 2010, BRIDGET™ items are available online at www.bridgetlovesbridge.com or by calling 877.497.3298. The BRIDGET™ team hopes to soon approach retail outlets and sell their products in boutiques and specialty game stores.

Gateway Regional Medical Center recently appointed a new chief operating officer, Chris Jones. Jones came from Moberly Regional Medical Center where he served most recently as Assistant CEO since March of 2007.

"I am excited to be joining such a dedicated group of employees and medical staff at Gateway Regional Medical Center," said Jones. "I look forward to building on their prior accomplishments and being a part of many future successes, as well as being an integral part of the Granite City community."

Jones began his tenure at Moberly Regional as a radiology technician and quickly worked his way up the ranks. He was promoted to Director of Radiology Services within 4 years. In 2006 was further promoted to administrative specialist and finally to ACEO in 2007.

During his time as ACEO, Jones facilitated a $3 mil MRI addition, which was completed in the summer of 2009. He was also involved in the planning of a $2 mil Cardiac Catheterization Lab renovation, which is currently underway at Moberly Regional. He supported all ancillary departments, assisted with new service line development and was instrumental in the organization’s culture change, specifically focused on improving employee, physician and patient satisfaction.

Jones earned his Bachelors degree of Health Sciences in Radiology from the University of Missouri in 1994. He earned a Masters in Business Administration and a Masters in Healthcare Administration from William Woods University, Fulton, MO in 2003 and 2005 respectively. He is married and has three children.
SIUE Alum to Display Artwork in MUC Gallery

Gib Singleton, a 1967 SIUE graduate, has produced some of the most inspiring works of art seen anywhere in the world. Millions of people have seen Gib's talent displayed in the hands of Pope John Paul II. The crucifix which sat atop the crosier, carried by the Pope during his 26 year reign, was created by Gib. Pope Benedict XVI now carries the same piece. Gib left SIUE to study at the Art Institute of Chicago where he was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to study in Italy. While in Italy he was commissioned to repair Michelangelo's Pieta after it was damaged by a vandal. His work is on display at the Vatican Museum, The Cowboy Hall of Fame, the Holocaust Martyrs and Heroes Remembrance Authority, and private collections around the world.

28 pieces representing Gib's work in contemporary, religious, and western themes, will be on display at the Morris University Center Gallery May 13–June 27. The exhibit is presented through a partnership with the SIUE Alumni Association, Meridian Society, SIUE Museum, Morris University Center, SIUE Friends of Art, Edwardsville Arts Council, and Jacoby Arts Center.

Governor Quinn Signs Legislation to Boost Number of Illinois Small Business Jobs

Governor Pat Quinn recently signed a bill into law that will help boost Illinois’ economy by creating up to 20,000 jobs over the next year at small businesses across the state. The new law is part of Governor Quinn’s continuing mission to help employers retain and generate jobs in Illinois during this difficult economic time.

“Small businesses are essential to the Illinois economy and it’s crucial that state government find fresh and creative ways of working with entrepreneurs, who will lead the charge toward economic recovery,” said Governor Quinn. “This tax credit will help our small business owners and operators to grow by creating 20,000 jobs over the next year.”

Senate Bill 1578 creates the Illinois Small Business Job Creation Tax Credit. The $2,500 credit will be available to businesses with 50 or fewer employees that hire new, full-time Illinois employees during a 12-month period beginning July 1. Ninety-five percent of Illinois businesses have fewer than 50 employees.

The legislation passed the General Assembly unanimously and was sponsored by Sen. Michael Noland (D-Elgin) and House Speaker Michael Madigan (D-Chicago).

To qualify for the credit, a new job must be sustained for at least one year and pay at least $25,000 annually. Eligible companies can apply for the credit online and will be issued a tax credit certificate beginning July 1, 2011. Applications for the credit may be submitted as soon as a new, full-time Illinois employee is hired and begins providing services. The total amount of credits issued is capped at $50 million.

Calculation of the net increase in the number of Illinois employees is based on the employer’s number of Illinois employees as of June 30, 2010. The determination of whether an employer has 50 or fewer employees will include all employees in every location, which includes both in Illinois and out-of-state employment totals. Related businesses will be treated as one business for the determination.

Grace Manor Restaurant
Collaborates with Local Artists

Grace Manor Restaurant, formerly the Klingel House Tearoom, is a pre-civil war building built in 1859 by the Klingel family. There was a 3-story Brewery that sat next to the house as well as tunnels under the property which were part of the underground railroad.

Grace Manor celebrates the flavors of the season with locally grown produce, meats, and dairy from Goshen Farmer’s Market, and local vendors. They change their menu with every season, along with the interior colors of the restaurant. Grace Manor puts a creative spin on traditional sandwiches and salads and make their own soups.

Complimenting that creativity, Grace Manor has opened its doors and offered its walls to artist and curator, Jennifer Flores, to display the work of local artists. Beginning in April, Grace Manor features the work of Jennifer Flores, Tricia Rehkemper, Michael Wartgow, Nick Martin and Ashlea Gernand. These artists will continue showing work for the feature show Untitled, and will be joined by St. Louis artist Amanda Dickson, Chicago artist Jennifer Szymczak, painter Alicia Obermeyer, and graphic designer Adam Sanchez in the month of May.

Grace Manor will cater the opening event Saturday, May 15 from 7–9pm, providing local flavor through food and drink. All work on display is available for purchase as Grace Manor participates as a satellite gallery space for Art Park Ost, APO, soon-to-be located in Granite City, IL.

Grace Manor Seasonal Restaurant, located at 1801 North Main Street in Edwardsville, is open Tuesday through Friday from 11am–7pm and Saturday from 10am–3pm. Reach Grace Manor by phone at 618.655.0650 or online at gracemanorrestaurant.com.

Scaturro Announces Upcoming Crushed Grapes Events, Encourages Local Shopping

Len Scaturro of Crushed Grapes, Kathy Goclan of American Family Insurance and Kelly Cobb of Catered AFFAIR, will host Business After Hours Thursday, May 13 at Crushed Grapes. They invite Chamber members to come out for a fun, relaxing evening of fantastic food, delicious drinks, and plenty of networking opportunities!

Scaturro also encourages everyone to shop locally as much as possible. "By shopping locally owned businesses, you help create a stronger economy, promote neighborhood improvement, support city services, build a better community and establish a personal relationship with business owners. We all have a vested interest in the success of our local economy."

Len is passionate about supporting your guy or gal next door. As a small business owner himself, Scaturro understands the importance of establishing meaningful relationships with customers. "When a customer steps through your door and you greet them by name, that means something – especially when they don’t come in on a regular basis. As those relationships develop, you learn more and more about a customer’s preferences, budget, and so on... you’re really able to connect with them on a new level and provide them with even greater customer service. That’s what we’re all about at Crushed Grapes – knowing our products and serving our customers."

Crushed Grapes has many exciting events planned for summer: a Father’s Day weekend celebration; wine appreciation and pairing courses taught through Lewis and Clark Community College; and an Australian wine tasting in August.

Plus, this is a great time of year for summer wines and beers – enjoy the beautiful weather with a rosé, white, or soft red wine.

Did you know that Crushed Grapes raised over $10,000 for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF) in 2009? Visit Crushed Grapes every Friday for wine tasting events – all proceeds support JDRF.
