Business of the Month:

Northwestern Mutual – Edwardsville, the September 2013 Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce Business of the Month, first opened its doors in 1999. The office of 25 financial representatives provides full financial security planning from life, disability, and long term care insurance to mutual funds, annuities, and other investment vehicles.

The company is owned by Brett Gilliland, who took over as managing director in 2007. Brett first joined the Northwestern Mutual team upon graduating from Eastern Illinois University. Brett was looking for a career opportunity in financial services in the St. Louis area. After attending a career fair, he chose to begin a career with Northwestern Mutual.

"Our passion is helping clients and prospects achieve financial freedom and protect themselves and their families, and we work with individuals ranging from recent college graduates to people approaching retirement," Brett said. "We are catalysts helping our community become the most financially secure in the world, serving one person, one family, one business at a time," he added.

Since starting with just a few representatives, the Northwestern Mutual – Edwardsville office has grown to 25 full time representatives, 15 college interns, and 15 staff members.

Northwestern Mutual – Edwardsville employees frequently give back to the community through volunteering their time and efforts to support local causes. Managing Director Brett Gilliland and his wife Julie started the Swing Fore Hope golf tournament in 2007 to raise funds for cancer research and financial support. Since its inception, Swing Fore Hope has raised $270,000. Financial Advisor Chad Opel and his wife Kathie created Edwardsville Neighbors in Need to help individuals in Edwardsville Community Unit School District 7 who have faced financial hardship due to unexpected medical expenses.

An Ed/Glen Chamber member since 1999, Brett shared, "Chamber membership has provided us the opportunity to network with other businesses and give back to the community."

Education leadership.

Community partnership.

Visit siue.edu to see why the "e" equals excellence.

At SIUE, we believe that the influence of a leader in education extends beyond the classroom. That's why we're enhancing our region through innovative research, community and business partnerships, and economic development initiatives, all of which contribute to an annual $471 million impact on our region. We're also preparing the next generation of community leaders. In fact, more than half of our 90,000 graduates live and work in the St. Louis area. These are just some of the ways we're helping to create a better future – for our students, and our community.

TheBANK of Edwardsville Earns Top Social Media Recognition

TheBANK of Edwardsville was recently named to the Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA) Top 50 Community Bank Leaders in Social Media. These rankings are the first of their kind, highlighting the community bank social media trailblazers among the financial industry.

TheBANK of Edwardsville was the only Illinois based community bank to make the list, earning a spot with successful Facebook and YouTube ventures.

"This is a tremendous honor," said TheBANK's Digital Marketing Officer Mike Cruz, who spearheads TheBANK's social media presence. "Our goal has always been to engage people, customers and non-customers alike, and let them know what TheBANK of Edwardsville family is doing. Social media is a perfect pipeline for that interaction."

According to ICBA Executive Vice President/Chief Marketing Officer Chris Lorence, a social media presence is rapidly becoming essential for community banks. "Building a brand goes beyond a perceived geographical footprint; social media opens the doors of opportunity even wider for community banks," he said. "Consumers now expect fresh content, insight and consistent interaction with brands they are connected to online, and community banks are no exception. ICBA is proud to highlight those community banks and bankers who are blazing a critical trail forward by making social media an integral part of their brand and communications strategy."

Nearly 7,000 community banks throughout the nation were eligible to be part of ICBA's list. Community banks were chosen based on their engagement with fans and followers, the content distributed on their social media platforms, the number of fans and/or followers they have, and the frequency of posting new content. Several of the community banks featured on ICBA's Top 50 Community Bank Leaders in Social Media will be profiled in September's issue of ICBA Independent Banker.

To view the entire 50 community banks that made the list, go to icba.org/smladers. ## Moussalli Returns to Andria's Countryside

Andria's Countryside Restaurant in Edwardsville is proud to welcome back Christian Moussalli as their restaurant manager. Christian previously worked at Andria's from 2004–2005 where he got a taste of working with his identical twin brother and executive chef Antoine Moussalli. Christian left Andria's in 2005 to move to Houston, where his wife Melissa took a teaching position. While in Houston, Christian had a career with Darden Restaurants. During those 8 years, working for the largest restaurant company in casual dining, he was able to hone his skills in all aspects of restaurant operations.

When Christian and Melissa decided to start a family, they knew it was time to move back to the Midwest. Shortly after the move, an opportunity presented itself to go back to Andria's Countryside. Christian could not pass up the chance to work with his brother again, where they use only the highest quality in everything they do. From their Niman Ranch Certified Angus Prime All Natural beef, to the use of home grown and locally grown produce, Christian knew this is where he belonged. Together, the Moussalli brothers hope to continue on the tradition of excellent food and service for which Andria's Countryside has become known.
